

HELLO...

Nadia EL-Sayed

As I stand alone in a place
Where no one knows my name,
I remember you and what you said
Many long years ago.

You told me that here
You would for an eternity be,
That as I believe in you
I'll never be alone.

The weeks went by and I watched you
Slowly grow weak and frail,
I swear I never left your side

I love you my dear -
Nothing can ever change that,
But this is the final time I'll come and visit you here.

Yet here I am at the very same place
We visited together so many past years past,
As I want you to know that still
And always I will believe in you.
