Task 1

Marathons in historyParagraph one

It's difficult to believe today, but running marathon races only became popular in the 1980s. Marathons are 26.2 miles long and nowadays hundreds of thousands of people take part in them every year.

Paragraph two

..... 1. The Greek army was fighting at a place called Marathon and they won. They sent a soldier to Athens, the capital of Greece, to tell the government about the victory. The soldier ran without stopping. When he arrived in Athens, he shouted, 'We have won', and then fell over!

Paragraph three

A (Example)..... There were seventeen male runners, and the winner was Spyridon Louis, whose time was 2 hours 58 minutes. The first Olympic marathon for women was in the 1980 games. However, the first woman to run a race was Marie-Louise Ledru who completed a marathon many years before that. She ran her race in 1918.

Paragraph four

..... 2. Dennis Kimetto of Kenya holds the world record for men – 2 hours 2 minutes and 57 seconds. Paula Radcliffe of the United Kingdom set the current women's record in 2003. No other woman has beaten her time of 2 hours 15 minutes and 25 seconds.

Paragraph five

..... 3. Amazingly, Fauja Singh ran a marathon when he was 100 years old, in 2011. He took just over eight hours. And in 2015 Harriette Thompson, aged 92, became the oldest woman to run the distance. Her time was 7 hours 24 minutes.

Questions 1-3

Four sentences are missing from the text on page 2. Look at the following sentences (A-E) and decide which one best fits each gap. There is one sentence you do not need and an example. Circle the letter of your answer on your answer sheet.

Task 3Driving in the UK*Paragraph A

This report looks at the increase in the number of vehicles on our roads. In 1951 there were two million cars on Britain's roads but now there are 30 million cars here.

Paragraph B

In the biggest towns and cities there are good transport networks. However, people still own cars, as public transport can cost a lot of money. It can also be more convenient to travel by car than by bus or train.

Paragraph C

The number of driving licences has increased since the 1970s. In 1975 around 18 million people had a driving licence. Now, there are 32 million car drivers. The biggest change has been the number of women who have a licence. This has increased from 29% in the 1970s to 68% today.

Paragraph D

There isn't a legal age for people to stop driving but when a person becomes 70 they need to renew their licence every three years. As people live longer and our population increases, more and more cars will be on the roads.

Paragraph E

Where do 30 million cars go every day? Most cars spend 80% of the time parked outside the home and 16% parked in a different place. On average a car is only moving for 4% of the time.

Questions 19-21

The text on page 6 has five paragraphs (A-E). Each paragraph has a purpose. Choose the letter of the paragraph that best matches the purposes below. Circle the letter on your answer sheet. You do not need to use all of the paragraphs. There is an example.
