

Connecting Teachers and Musicians Around the World

Introducing SoundEd CPD – a new professional development programme designed for all music teachers worldwide. Developed by Trinity College London and The Open University, SoundEd CPD provides support and inspiration for all aspects of music teaching through flexible and personalised professional development.

Delivered through a brand new online learning platform for teachers, SoundEd CPD offers interactive e-learning and integrated workshop sessions, a wide range of musical resources, forums, articles, and much more.

photo: Belinda Lawley

How you can engage with SoundEd CPD:

Engage in professional development by completing the SoundEd CPD online modules.

Be part of our community. Discuss and share ideas with us and with other teachers in our forum.

Access and download teaching resources and materials from our Teacher library.

Read and download articles written by individuals from across the music education sector.

Discover Trinity exams. Access syllabus support and guidance and learn through our new interactive syllabus guides.